

Kristian som gartner
og i Gedens Fuglepark

14. og 15. maj 2011

Kristian plukker "dule bomster" til sin egen trillebør i Momses have Lørdag gik turen så

til Nordsjællands Fuglepark

hvor gederne
var det største hit

selv om nogle var for små til at forstå det

mens de voksne
godt vidste, hvad
"dule bomster" er

og dem var der nok af

Endelig var der fugle,
man kunne komme nær

A woman with short brown hair, wearing a dark blue jacket and a plaid scarf, is leaning forward to feed several colorful parrots in a large aviary. The aviary is filled with a dense network of bare, brown branches. The parrots, which have green, blue, and orange feathers, are perched on the branches. A young child with short brown hair, wearing a blue jacket, is standing in front of the woman, looking up at the birds. In the background, another person with long blonde hair is visible, also interacting with the birds. The aviary is enclosed by a wire mesh fence, and the background shows some greenery and a building structure.
